Leadership: An Introduction

Leadership is an act of taking initiative in every situation of life. Leadership is about making things happen. Leadership is about getting things done within time. There are some great souls who urge us being a leader in every area of our life. One such person is Dr. Robert H. Schuller. This booklet is about his SEVENTEEN leadership principles that were presented in his best selling book “Tough Times Never Last, But Tough People Do.”

Dr. Robert's 17 Leadership Principles

An illustration of these leadership principles is given below:

1. Don't surrender leadership to OUTSIDE FORCES
2. Don't surrender leadership to FACES
3. Don't surrender leadership to FARCES
4. Don't surrender leadership to FENCES
5. Don't surrender leadership to FRUSTRATIONS
6. Don't surrender leadership to your FANTASIES
7. Don't surrender leadership to FEARS
8. Don't surrender leadership to FATIGUE
9. Don't surrender leadership to FAULTS
10. Don't surrender leadership to FACTS
11. Don't surrender leadership to FRENZIES
12. Don't surrender leadership to FATES
13. Don't surrender leadership to FORECASTS
14. Don't surrender leadership to FOES
15. Don't surrender leadership to FRIENDS
16. Don't surrender leadership to the FRACTURING EXPERIENCES OF LIFE
17. Don't surrender leadership to the FLATTENING-OUT EXPERIENCES OF LIFE

Faith: Important Leadership Principle

He urges us to surrender leadership to only one thing: FAITH. Faith in Myself and Faith in the Almighty Power above all of us. Have these two FAITH components and everything will fall in place.

Dr. Robert H. Schuller is a proponent of “Possibility Thinking”. He, time and again, reminds us that at the heart of the possibility thinking path is just one thing – Faith; the faith that can move your mountain. We cannot have that kind of faith in a single day.

Faith is like a seed sown in the field which when watered and nurtured grows into a seedling and then into a strong plant that finally bears fruits. Later these ripe fruits are harvested at the right time. Similarly, the faith in us must go through different phases in order to become stronger. These phases are – the nesting phase (sowing seeds); the testing phase (sprouting); the investing phase (watering and nurturing); the arresting phase (fruit-bearing) and the cresting phase (harvesting). If you have a strong faith, you have a strong value system. Decision-making is easy if there are no contradictions in your value system.
